

01

PRESIDENT · DECREE · 9 JUNE 2026

President expands credit guarantees and interest subsidies for entrepreneurs.

The week's defining act is a presidential decree, signed 9 June, that overhauls the state's system of credit support for the private sector. The decree refines the mechanisms through which the government guarantees bank loans extended to entrepreneurs and subsidises the interest payable on them, and it amends a series of earlier presidential decrees so that the whole framework operates under a single, updated set of rules.

In practice, the reform widens access to state-backed financing and lowers the effective cost of borrowing for private business. By reducing the collateral burden and the interest expense that small and medium enterprises face, it is designed to channel commercial credit into productive, non-oil sectors of the economy — manufacturing, agriculture, services and export-oriented production.

It is the most consequential of the fourteen instruments entered into the official State Register during the review period, and it sits at the centre of a wider economic-policy package. The same day, the President signed a complementary decree on non-oil-gas exports (item 02), and on 8 June overhauled the Agrarian Credit and Development Agency (item 03) — three measures that together point firmly toward diversification away from hydrocarbon revenue.

Source · e-qanun.az/framework/61987

02

PRESIDENT · DECREE · 9 JUNE 2026

A parallel push to reward non-oil exporters.

Signed the same day as the credit-guarantee reform, a second presidential decree introduces additional measures to stimulate the export of non-oil-and-gas goods and to defray the transport and logistics costs that weigh on exporters. The instrument extends targeted support to producers competing in foreign markets, where freight expense often erodes the margin on Azerbaijani goods.

Read together with item 01, the decree confirms a deliberate tilt of fiscal policy toward the tradable, non-hydrocarbon economy. For manufacturers, agro-processors and logistics operators, the practical question will be the eligibility thresholds and the per-shipment ceilings, which fall to be set in the implementing rules.

Source · e-qanun.az/framework/61986

03

PRESIDENT · DECREE · 8 JUNE 2026

The Agrarian Credit and Development Agency is recast.

On 8 June the President amended the founding statute of the Agrarian Credit and Development Agency under the Ministry of Agriculture — the 2015 decree (No. 571) that defines the body — together with related instruments governing state support to farming. The changes refit the agency that channels concessional finance into the rural economy.

Coming a day before the broader entrepreneur-credit reform, the measure signals that agriculture is to be a primary beneficiary of the diversification drive. Agribusiness clients should expect revised lending criteria and, potentially, a wider mandate for the agency.

Source · e-qanun.az/framework/61985

04

PRESIDENT · DECREE · 12 JUNE 2026

A single rulebook for the country's airports.

The President approved, on 12 June, a comprehensive set of Rules on the Management of Airports (Aerodromes), issued under the constitutional power to regulate (Article 109.32) and framed as part of measures to improve management in civil aviation. The Rules establish the governance model, operational standards and responsibilities that will bind airport operators.

For parties to concession, ground-handling, leasing or infrastructure agreements at the country's airports, the decree introduces a new compliance baseline. Existing contracts should be reviewed against the Rules, and any transitional provisions noted.

Source · president.az/articles/view/72735 (not yet registered on e-qanun)

05

PRESIDENT · DECREE · 10 JUNE 2026

The capital's administration is restructured.

A decree of 10 June reorganises the structure and management of the Baku City Executive Authority, the body that administers the capital. The reform adjusts the internal architecture and lines of management of the country's largest municipal administration.

Governance reforms of this kind tend to ripple outward — into procurement, permitting and the handling of municipal matters generally. Clients with dealings before the Baku authority should watch for consequential changes to competences and points of contact.

Source · e-qanun.az/framework/62002

06

PRESIDENT · DECREE · 10 JUNE 2026

The new citizens' appeals law takes effect.

The President brought into force the 26 May amendments to the Law on Citizens' Appeals (No. 415-VIIQD) and, in the same decree, amended the 2016 Rules (approved by Decree No. 950) on the handling of citizens' appeals across state and municipal bodies, state-controlled legal entities and budget organisations.

The measure tightens the procedural framework that governs how public bodies receive and answer citizens. Administrative-law practitioners should note the revised record-keeping and response obligations, which take effect immediately.

Source · e-qanun.az/framework/62000

07

CABINET · DECISION No. 171 · 9 JUNE 2026

Rules adopted for the national rail network.

The Cabinet of Ministers approved Rules on the maintenance and use of general-use railway transport infrastructure — a foundational regulation for the rail sector. The Rules govern how the publicly accessible network is kept up and accessed by operators.

For freight forwarders, infrastructure contractors and any party to a rail-access arrangement, the decision sets the terms of engagement with the network. It is the most structurally significant of the Cabinet's eleven decisions this week.

Source · e-qanun.az/framework/61993

08

CABINET · DECISION No. 173 · 9 JUNE 2026

The gas-supply rulebook is rewritten.

Implementing the 2025 Law on Gas Supply (No. 233-VIIQ), the Cabinet amended a series of its own decisions and repealed three legacy instruments — rules dating to 1999 and 2023 on gas distribution and on the construction and operation of gas installations. The effect is to consolidate the sector under the current statutory regime.

Distributors and large industrial consumers should map the repealed rules against the new framework to confirm that internal compliance procedures remain valid.

Source · e-qanun.az/framework/61994

09

CABINET · DECISION No. 174 · 10 JUNE 2026

State guarantees underpin a new upstream PSA.

The Cabinet approved the Government's guarantees and obligations under the production-sharing agreement between SOCAR and Gran Tierra Energy (Azerbaijan) GmbH, covering exploration, development and production across parts of the Quba, Qusar, Shabran, Siyazan and Khizi districts. The decision gives the sovereign backing that international upstream investors require.

The award signals continued foreign-investor appetite for Azerbaijani acreage and provides a template for the contractual architecture of future production-sharing agreements.

Source · e-qanun.az/framework/62004

10

CABINET · DECISIONS Nos. 176–178 · 12 JUNE 2026

Three new sites earmarked for renewable energy.

In a single sitting on 12 June the Cabinet designated two state-owned parcels in the Hacıqabul district as renewable-energy sites (Decisions Nos. 177 and 178) and amended its 2024 decision on a comparable site in Jabrayil (No. 176). The instruments enlarge the land bank available for solar and wind development.

The Jabrayil amendment, revisiting a 2024 designation, shows the liberated-territories energy programme being refined in practice. Developers and lenders active in these districts should track the evolving site parameters.

Source · nk.gov.az · Qərar 178 (not yet registered on e-qanun)

11

CABINET · DECISION No. 169 · 9 JUNE 2026

The security service gains a central analytics system.

The Cabinet amended several of its decisions to give effect to a 2025 presidential decree (No. 533) establishing the Centralised Information and Digital Analytics System of the State Security Service. The decision aligns subordinate regulation with the new architecture for state-security data.

While operationally sensitive, the measure forms part of a broader digitisation of the security apparatus and may bear on data-sharing obligations imposed on regulated entities.

Source · e-qanun.az/framework/61988

12

CABINET · DECISION No. 170 · 9 JUNE 2026

The mandatory-insurance benefit package is adjusted.

The Cabinet amended the Mandatory Health Insurance Services Package — the schedule of services covered under the compulsory scheme, first approved in 2020. Changes to the package alter the scope of care that insured persons may claim and the corresponding obligations on providers.

Employers and healthcare providers should confirm how the revised schedule affects coverage and reimbursement before the change takes effect.

Source · e-qanun.az/framework/61990

13

CABINET · DECISION No. 168 · 9 JUNE 2026

A framework for energy-efficiency data.

The Cabinet approved the Regulation on the Energy Efficiency Information System, establishing the legal basis for collecting, monitoring and reporting energy-consumption data across the economy. The system is intended to underpin efficiency policy with reliable measurement.

Energy-intensive enterprises should anticipate reporting duties once the system becomes operational.

Source · e-qanun.az/framework/61995

14

CABINET · ORDERS · 9–10 JUNE 2026

Four orders put recent presidential decrees into effect.

Alongside its decisions, the Cabinet issued four implementing orders. Two of 10 June give effect to presidential decrees on the ASAN citizen-service agency (No. 678) and on Finance Ministry representation on the boards of state-owned entities (No. 675). Two of 9 June implement the renaming of territorial units in the Quba district (under Law No. 404-VIIQ) and changes to the State Agency for the Protection of Strategic Facilities.

Individually routine, together they show the machinery by which presidential policy is translated into administrative practice within days of signature.

Source · nk.gov.az · Sərəncam 403s (not yet registered on e-qanun)